An owner or occupant may challenge the most recent charges on the bill by either: (a) paying the current charges in the bill and notifying DC Water in writing within 20 calendar days after the bill date, the reason(s) why the bill is believed to be incorrect and that the bill is being paid under protest; or, (b) not paying the current charges in the bill and notifying DC Water in writing, within 20 calendar days after the bill date, the reason(s) why the bill is believed to be incorrect.
